Comparative Healthcare Systems: The United States and United Kingdom

Spring Semester 2013

SOW 4274 (3 credits—undergraduate)

SOW 6274 (3 credits—graduate)

Travel to London will be over Spring Break—March 2 –10, 2013

This is your opportunity to:

- Participate in an on-line course to research first-hand the new U.S. policy on healthcare.
- Travel to London over Spring Break and meet with providers in the U.K. to learn about their experiences with healthcare.
- Examine benefits, barriers, and access to services in the U. K. system.
- Expand your resume with expertise few others will have.
- See the sights of London as part of your international education.

Approximate cost for a minimum of 15 students registering is $2,500* (dependent on airfare at time of booking). The price does not include the tuition for course credit.

*price includes air transportation from Tampa, all ground transportation in London, admission to all London sights included in the itinerary, lodging for 7 nights in the London village of Hampstead, breakfast each day, dinner on the first night of arrival, transportation and admission to Stonehenge.

Space is limited so register early! Registration deadline -
November 14, 2012

Students who are interested in learning more about and applying to this program can follow these steps:

Go to the FGCU Horizons website. (www.fgcu.edu/international/StudyAbroadMain.asp).

1. Click on the Search Programs tab and find the *FGCU Comparative Healthcare Systems U.S. and England program (it is listed near the top). Students can read program details on this site.
2. To apply, students will need to register with Horizons by clicking on "Register To Apply." Once they register, they can apply to this program. If a student is already registered with Horizons (675 FGCU students already are), they can simply click on "Apply" to fill out the application.

Students who have questions about the application process can contact Brent Spencer in International Services directly at brspencer@fgcu.edu
