SW 498: Service Learning in Ghana

Instructor: Alice Boateng, PHD, MSW.

Description:

Service learning combines community service with academic instruction, focusing on critical, reflective thinking and personal and civic responsibility. Service learning programs involve students in activities that address community-identified needs, while developing their academic skills and commitment to their community.

Objectives:

- To provide students realistic information about social scenario and social problems in Ghana along with first hand practical exposure to the society and social problems
- To develop social responsibility among students
- To enable students to become more aware of the needs of others while participating in service activities.
- To provide students with the opportunity to develop cultural sensitive skills by serving in a community different from their own.
- To assist students to make connections between their community experiences and the larger world, focusing especially on social justice issues
- To enable students appreciate people from diverse backgrounds.

SW 498 is part of a six-week summer project in Ghana.
