

Study Abroad in Microcredit, Social Business and Social Development in

BANGLADESH

December 27, 2012 – January 11, 2013

The SIUC School of Social Work, in collaboration with Case Western Reserve University's Mandel School, will offer the 5th Annual Study Abroad Program to Bangladesh. The role of microfinance initiatives to alleviate poverty and nurture social entrepreneurship is the program's theme.

Dr. Muhammad Yunus, 2006 Nobel Laureate and founder of the Grameen Bank, is a former colleague of SIUC School of Social Work Director Dr. Mizan Miah, and will be a part of this very personalized and unique experience.

Participants will spend 6 days in Dhaka, the Bangladesh capital, 6 days visiting microcredit, social business and social development projects in rural Bangladesh, and two days in Bangladesh's beach-resort city of Cox's Bazar.

Students of various majors can apply. Especially, Agriculture, Anthropology, Business, Communication, Economics, Non-Profit Management, Political Science, Public Administration, Public Health, Social Work, and Sociology are encouraged to enroll.
