

School of Social Work

TENURE-TRACK POSITIONS - AVAILABLE FALL 2016

The Howard University School of Social Work is accepting applications for two open rank tenure-track positions. Applicants will be considered at the rank of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor (rank open based on academic qualifications). Priority consideration will be given to specializations in mental health, social gerontology and family and child welfare.

The School of Social Work is located in the nation's capital and offers two MSW concentrations: Direct Practice and Community, Administration and Policy Practice. We offer specializations in health, mental health, family and child welfare, displaced populations and social gerontology. Additionally the School offers a Ph.D. in social work with specialized interest areas. There are research opportunities through the E. Franklin Frazier Center for Social Work Research and the Multidisciplinary Gerontology Center. The School embraces faculty scholarship that focuses on social and economic injustice, poverty, and disparities that impact quality of life, especially for African Americans and other historically oppressed populations.

The School has been continuously accredited during our 75 year history and is reaffirmed by CSWE through 2020. We are a highly ranked graduate program at the university and currently listed as one of the top 50 MSW programs in the country and in the top third of programs ranked by the U.S. News and World Report.

REQUIREMENTS

Earned doctorate in social work required and at least two years post-MSW practice experience preferred. We are also seeking applicants with excellent teaching evaluations, scholarship and research experience or strong potential. Additionally, experience with distance education is highly desirable.

TO APPLY

For priority consideration, please submit a letter of application outlining research, practice and teaching experiences along with a curriculum vita and samples of scholarly work. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Priority consideration will be given to applications received by December 31. The review process will commence early November. Please send complete application to:

Sandra Edmonds Crewe, Ph.D., MSW, ACSW, Dean
Howard University School of Social Work
601 Howard Place NW
Washington, DC 20059
Telephone: 202-806-7311
Website: www.socialwork.howard.edu
Email: Jeannie.petaway-fields@howard.edu

Applications will be reviewed upon receipt. Additional information on back page

Howard University is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, marital status, religion, or handicap in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarships, and loan programs.

Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for African American students. Moreover, the University is dedicated to attracting and sustaining a cadre of faculty who are, through their teaching, research and service, committed to the development of distinguished, historically aware, and compassionate graduates and to the discovery of solutions to human problems in the United States and throughout the world. With an abiding interest in both domestic and international affairs, the University is committed to continuing to produce leaders for America and the global community.

Important Links

<http://www.howard.edu/schoolsocialwork/default.htm>

<http://www.howard.edu/research/index.html>

<http://www.howard.edu/newsroom/publications.htm>