SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

FULL-TIME TENURE TRACK FACULTY POSITION

The University of Maine School of Social Work invites applications for one full-time tenure track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level in our undergraduate and graduate social work programs. The position begins August 29, 2016, or when a suitable candidate is identified. The successful faculty applicant should be capable of teaching in the social work research sequence and one other sequence area. Interest and/or experience in Distance Education are a plus.

Responsibilities: Teaching in the BSW program and MSW-Orono program, and MSW Online program, engagement in scholarly activities in field of expertise, participation in academic advisement and in School, University, and Professional committees and service.

Qualifications: Applicants must have an earned Doctorate in Social Work or a related field, an MSW degree and a minimum of two years of post-MSW social work practice experience. Applicants who will complete their doctorate by hire date will be considered. Successful applicants must have excellent communication and collaboration skills and the ability to work as a team member. Travel normally requiring a valid driver's license.

The University of Maine is the flagship campus of the seven campus University of Maine System. The School of Social Work offers CSWE accredited BSW and MSW programs. Opportunities are available to collaborate with the University of Maine's Center on Aging, a University-wide interdisciplinary center specializing in aging education, research and community service. Acadia National Park and other recreational areas are within easy driving distance from campus.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. To apply, send a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, and contact information for three current references to:
